Forecast for Saturday 08 May 2021

Weather: Dry with thickening cloud through the early hours. A dry, bright start before a band of rain (snow above 600m initially, rising to 800m) pushes northward, reaching the Ochils by mid morning and the Aberdeenshire Hills by late morning before gradually clearing northwards by evening. Blizzard conditions expected above munro level with occasionally heavy rain affecting lower slopes, mainly in the east.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: 40% falling almost zero by late morning.

Visibility: Areas of cloud above 600m will become increasingly extensive through morning and will lower to 300-500m. Whiteout conditions likely on highest slopes during snow and widely hazy on lower ground in rain, especially in east.
